

CHRIS WALMSLEY

Ian Bread

Chris Walmsley started at the Kavon in March 2007. His natural flare and liveliness sees Chris right at home with his co-workers. Chris stepped up into the character of "Ian Bread" soon after starting, taking over from Mark Coles.

Chris claims that growing up in a small country town (which shall remain nameless) helped hone his ability to play Ian to his full potential. Chris also stepped up in mid 2007 to the roll of photographer for the Kavon. He has since taken up performing at the Minor Mortals parties as host character "Beetlejuice." Chris also has an interest in magic and card tricks which he is slowly integrating into the night shows and kids parties.

IAN BREAD