

STUART MONCRIEFF

Horny

Stuart Moncrieff entered into the doors of the Kavon in August 2005 with a willingness and enthusiasm to produce the best line of work that he could give. Right from the start Stuart was able to live up to his word and become one of the best performers the Kavon has seen. Since day one, Stuart has played the character "Horny," a devilish creature from the underworld, and has been able to capture the audiences attention with his quick witted mind and energetic movements. Stuart has also been apart of the singing aspects of the Kavon where he sang alongside Dallas Bigelow, Mel Zambris and Luke Baker for the Christmas show of 2005, "Kavon Krupts the Movie Scene" upstairs at the Gallipoli. During the year, Stuart fell to illness which resulted him to postpone his life at the Kavon. After a full recovery, he was able to return to sing alongside his colleagues for the 2006 show "Evil Tales in Vegas," and in 2007 alongside Luke Baker. With Stuart's powerful voice and unlimited amounts of energy, his home will always be the stage!

HORNY

